

Marta Kolodziejczak of Warsaw, Poland has joined George Simons International, a diversity management firm based in Santa Cruz, as an intern. Kolodziejczak will work with GSI for the next seven months. She will be involved with all business functions, diversity training, production and marketing, and also will complete a research project in the field of cross-cultural relations as part of her internship.

Kolodziejczak has been studying business management for the past three years at Warsaw University. She will return to Poland after her internship to complete her degree.